

Misinformation

Recently, some university representatives released erroneous information regarding the union and the bargaining agreement. The incorrect information announced is that "the university offered the union an extension of the contract and the union declined their offer" and "there won't be any raises this year."

FACT: The University and the union have not engaged into contract negotiations and/or discussions at this time. Neither side, the university nor the union, has proposed, offered, and/or discussed the next bargaining agreement.

"This truth is brought to you by your union!"
